

Ohio Democrats Putting Squeeze On Kefauver-Backers

COLUMBUS, Feb. 5.—The Ohio Democratic State Executive Committee voted Monday to send 16 delegates-at-large with half a vote each to the party's national convention next July, instead of eight delegates-at-large with a full vote each.

The move was viewed as an attempt to weaken the supporters of Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, who have entered only eight candidates for delegates-at-large from Ohio.

The committee's action would give the Kefauver delegates-at-large, if all were elected, only four votes at the convention.

Besides the delegates-at-large there will be two delegates from each of the state's 23 congressional districts, each with a full vote. The Kefauver backers plan to enter a nearly complete slate of district delegates.

The Democratic organization delegates are pledged to Former U. S. Sen. Robert J. Bulkley of Cleveland, picked as a "favorite son" candidate since President Truman has not announced his plans. It is presumed the delegates pledged to Bulkley would switch after the first ballot to Truman, or whomever Truman designates as his successor.

Timothy S. Hogan Jr. of Cincinnati, a Kefauver supporter, said he still is considering court action to prevent halving the votes of the delegates-at-large, but observers said such a suit probably would have only propaganda value.

In the Republican camp, supporters of Harold E. Stassen announced they have lined up a full slate of 56 candidates for delegates to the GOP national convention to oppose the state party organization slate pledged to Sen. Robert A. Taft.

Stassen said he believes he has a better chance to win the state's delegation this year because he has a complete slate entered. In 1948 he won nine delegates of 23 entered.

Stassen said he would campaign vigorously in Ohio the last week in April and the first week in May. He said he would not make any "personal attack" on Taft, but would campaign on the issues, principally on foreign policy.

He called Taft's foreign policy "withdrawing from the rest of the world," and said it is out-of-date.

The delegates pledged to Stassen are:

Delegates at large: Mrs. Henry D. (Lois) Cossitt of Toledo, Former Ohio Chief Justice Carrington T. Marshall of Columbus; Dr. Roy V. Sherman of Akron, Dr. Charles E. Beatty of Portsmouth, Max H. Vann of Cleveland, Clyde E. Bartlebaugh of Bridgeport, long-time AFL representative, J. Paul Brenton, Dayton attorney, Mrs. R. P. Hutchins of Piqua, Arthur W. Marriott of Chagrin Falls, and John A. Benbow of Gallon.

District delegates include: Fifth — Charles S. Huston of Sherwood and Wayne M. Leath-erman of Perrysburg.

Sixth—Miss Beverly Brown of New Boston and Henry C. Hensge of Portsmouth.

Seventh — William E. Bailey and Robert W. Cole of Springfield, delegates, and William E. Elbon of Lebanon, alternate.

Tenth—Harry M. Welch of Ironton and Arthur E. Cornwell of Athens.

Extension Service Conference For District To Be Held Here

County agents and their staff associates from 22 southwestern Ohio counties are to gather at Washington C. H., Thursday and Friday for what is described as an "extension conference."

Between 60 and 70 men and women in agricultural extension service are expected to attend the two-day meeting which is to be held in the Hotel Washington.

Most of the subjects to be taken up at the conference are to be in line with the recommendations made at the district program meeting last July, the announcement sent to extension agents throughout the district said.

The letter of announcement of the date and place of the meeting also suggested that the agents make notes of the questions they would like clarified during the conferences.

The meetings will be held under the supervision of Marie Waters, the assistant state home demonstration leader; John T. Mount, the assistant 4-H club leader, and George R. Eastwood, the district supervisor.

THE PROGRAM for the conference, it is understood, is to be based on a review of 4-H program evaluation of the present situation and to determine some important factors for moving the 4-H program forward.

The conference is scheduled to open at 10 A. M. Thursday with a statement of principles that should guide the extension workers as they measure the effectiveness of a county 4-H program. C. C. Lang is to be the speaker.

After that the conference is to be broken down into workshop

100th Birthday Coming Wednesday For One of County's Pioneer Women

Miss Laura DeWees

Miss Laura DeWees, a patient in the Winters Nursing Home, corner Market and Lewis streets, will celebrate her 100th birthday anniversary quietly on Wednesday.

"I never expected to reach 100 years," Miss DeWees said Monday afternoon, when visited by a Record-Herald reporter and staff photographer.

Miss DeWees has been lifelong resident of Fayette County and part of that time she has resided in Washington C. H., where she has gone quietly about her way.

She lost her sight a number of years ago, but this tragedy in her life has never dimmed her cheerful disposition.

She has been an ideal patient at the Winters Nursing Home where she has lived since Jan. 6, 1949.

Miss DeWees was born in Rock Mills, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas DeWees, who were among Fayette County's early settlers.

She is a sister of the late William, Wesley, Sam and Thomas DeWees, all of whom will be recalled as among this city's best known residents.

She also had three sisters, Mrs. Emma Purnell, Miss Sarah and Mrs. Hulda Todhunter, all of whom

Anesthetic Tank Blast Kills Patient

CHICAGO, Feb. 5.—An anesthetic tank exploded in a hospital operating room Monday and caused the death of a Roman Catholic priest who was undergoing surgery.

Thomas A. Carter, deputy coroner, said the priest was the Rev. James P. Cummings, 35, who was being operated on for ulcers. Attendees said he inhaled hot smoke and gases which filled the room after the blast.

Trucker Walkout Said Nearly Over

COLUMBUS, Feb. 5.—A Teamsters Union spokesman said Monday night the four-day old strike of Ohio's over-the-road truck drivers is "over for all intents and purposes."

Don Pfeiffer, secretary of the Columbus AFL local, said all but about "25 or 30" truck companies have signed contracts. He predicted the rest would sign Tuesday.

GOPsters Eat Chicken, Hear Speeches, See Taft-Ike Set-To

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—It isn't hard to get a crowd out for a political rally. All a party has to do is promise a chicken box supper for $1, and put on five hours of entertainment and speech-making.

The Republican Party proved it again Monday night with a mammoth Lincoln Day rally at Georgeown University's gymnasium.

Nobody knows how many people showed up. But Ralph Duncan, the man in charge of passing out the

Truman OKs Name In Poll

He Says He Will Try Some 'Eyewash'

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—President Truman decided Tuesday to let his name remain on the ballot in the New Hampshire primary election as a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The White House made public a letter in which the President said he had yielded to the request of Chairman Frank McKinney of the Democratic national committee and "many good Democrats in New Hampshire," who are "of the opinion that my name should be left on the ballot."

Only last Thursday Truman had said he would have his name taken off the March 11 New Hampshire ballot. He said preferential primaries are only "eyewash" and don't mean a thing at convention time.

He said at the time his decision to get out of the New Hampshire race would not preclude his running for reelection, if he decided to do so.

Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee is entered in New Hampshire, and Truman's decision to stay in will afford something of a test between them.

Bullet In Brain May Change Man

DALLAS, Feb. 5.—A pistol slug over the right eye may mean a new and entirely different life for Charles Green, 29-year-old Dallas ex-convict, who was shot Saturday night in a tavern brawl.

chicken, said he had over 8,000 boxes—and ran out.

In theory, the GOP rally was neutral in its choice of a presidential candidate—as long as he was a Republican, of course. In practice, there was quite a bit of jockeying for position between the supporters of Senator Taft of Ohio and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The Taft forces got away to a fast start. They marched around with placards reading, "We're for

U.S. Pondering Closure Of Offices In Red Orbit

UN Votes To Hold Korea Talk Only After Armistice

Soviet Bloc Loses Ballot By Wide Margin; Tokyo Says Accord Not Yet In Sight

PARIS, Feb. 5.—The United Nations General Assembly Tuesday voted overwhelmingly final approval of a Western plan to postpone discussion of Korean political issues until an armistice is signed.

The Western victory was the final major act of the sixth assembly session, which began Nov. 6. The vote was 51 in favor, five against and two abstentions.

It marked a triumph for the position taken by the United States, Britain and France that any UN discussion of Korea now could only hamper the progress of truce talks in Panmunjom. By its vote, the assembly repudiated the Russian view that the UN should take over the talks.

U. S. Delegate Ernest A. Gross hailed the result and pledged that the U. S. would do its best to bring about an armistice.

He denounced Soviet attempts to "seek the transfer to Paris of military matters." Gross said these attempts had hardened the will of the majority to prevent it.

THE RESOLUTION calls for a special session of the assembly to meet in New York as soon as a truce is declared. It also provides for an emergency session if there is no truce and events in Korea make one necessary.

Meanwhile, in Tokyo, the UN Command cautioned against expecting quick agreement on an armistice.

Tokyo headquarters described Communist truce tactics as "Operation Quagmire."

"Recent minor compromises" at Panmunjom, the UN Command said, fit "the Communist see-saw of progress. They don't necessarily involve any change in their main program of bargaining inertia."

The command pointed out Red negotiators "have agreed to none of the really major points of dispute. They have instead conceded in points of theory or in instances where their concessions actually cost them nothing."

The UN views were expressed on

CLEVELAND, Feb. 5.—Martha Abba Millikin, Italian-born stage star of the 1930s in Europe and America, has obtained a divorce from Severance A. Millikin that allowed her a reported settlement of more than $1 million.

Now 47, Mrs. Millikin was granted the divorce Monday by Common Pleas Judge James C. Connel. Besides the $1 million, Mrs. Millikin was allowed some of the art objects and furnishings from the Millikin estate. Her million, a settlement in cash and securities, cannot be taxed. Famed Novelist Held by Police

Counterfeiting Ring Is Nabbed

Worldwide Racket Smashed, Is Claim

CHICAGO, Feb. 5.—A multi-million-dollar international counterfeit ring, described as one of the biggest in the nation's history, was smashed Monday by Secret Service agents.

More than $2.2 million in bogus $10 and $20 bills were produced by the ring in the last four years, said Harry D. Anheier, chief of the Secret Service in Chicago.

Five Chicago men were seized and further arrests are expected, Anheier said. He disclosed the phony $10 and $20 bills have turned up in cities throughout the United States, as well as in London, Paris, Rome and in other parts of the world.

Anheier said approximately $1.4 million in counterfeit money has been circulated by the gang.

Federal agents also are investigating evidence the gang may have been responsible for the counterfeiting of more than $1 million in Cities Service Co. bonds.

THE FBI last Nov. 6 arrested three New York City men in connection with the sale of $25,000 in fake bonds for $7,125.

Two of the five men nabbed in Chicago are owners of a west side printing plant which was raided by the agents. They said the phony bills were printed in the plant, the Sferas Printing Co., owned by James Sferas, 36, and his brother, Samuel, 34.

Also arrested was William Skaly, 41, described by agents as an ex-convict and the top plotter and sales manager of the ring.

He was nabbed after he accepted $3,500 in marked bills from an undercover agent in return for $50,000 in bogus $10 and $20 bills.

Anheier said the ring's activities were bigger than those of Count Victor Lustig, the international swindler whose gang manufactured more than $1 million in phony federal reserve notes prior to 1939.

Anheier said the phony bills, which were produced by lithography, were "reasonably good" imitations of Chicago Federal Reserve bank notes.

Flaws in the bill, agents said, included the absence of blue and green silk thread from the otherwise high quality paper used and failure to match the green ink of genuine bills.

Diplomatic Move Due For Talks

State Department Policy Shift Aimed At Commie World

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—The United States is reviewing the question of whether to close all American embassies in Russian satellite countries.

A meeting of American ambassadors to Iron Curtain countries has been tentatively set in Paris for the first week in March to consider the problem.

At the same time American diplomats will try to devise a plan for better protection of embassy personnel and private American businessmen now in Europe.

Any decision to close American embassies would mark a decided shift in State Department policy. Until now it has favored keeping them open at virtually all costs to serve as "listening posts."

Top State Department policy-makers would prefer to keep them in operation, despite increasing harassment from Communist governments, even now.

SOME KEY officials, however, proposed the review because they fear the satellite governments are

37th Division Men Start Out On Training

CAMP POLK, La., Feb. 5.—Men of the 37th Division started a seven-week basic training program Monday, but it won't be all work.

Last weekend many men of the former Ohio National Guard outfit got passes to nearby Leesville or DeRidder. A dance honoring the 147th Infantry Regiment from Southwestern Ohio was held in the main service club. The post field house was open for athletics.

Division Chaplain Ferdinand Evans reported religious services in the division area have been well attended the last two Sundays.

Another cheerful note was the completion of the first unit of a 200-unit housing development in Leesville.

The housing development, and another 50-unit project in DeRidder, are being built under a government order which designated the Camp Polk area as a critical defense area. All of the housing has been spoken for since last September.

The first week of the division's intensive training includes instruction in firing the M-1 rifle, grenades, use of the bayonet, physical training, map and aerial photograph reading, character guidance, group living, military courtesy, dismounted drill, hygiene and maintenance of equipment.

Little Phone Company Battles 'Invasion' By Big Lima Firm

COLUMBUS, Feb. 5.—A telephone company with 530 customers in Allen and Putnam Counties has asked the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio to stop a larger company from invading its territory.

The hearing on the Elida Mutual Telephone Co.'s complaint against the Lima Telephone and Telegraph Co. began Monday afternoon before the full commission and continued Tuesday.

The Lima company contends the commission gave it permission to operate in the Elida territory in 1929.

GOP Big Guns Pepper Truman

Intra-Party Strife Is Curbed As Democrats Take Attacks

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Republicans checked their differences at the door here Monday night for a mass attack on Truman policies, but elsewhere it was skirmishing as usual among GOP presidential hopefuls.

Rep. Leonard W. Hall of New York sounded the battle cry against the Truman administration when he said:

"No administration which attempts to corrupt the people with their own money can itself be uncorrupt, and it should be removed from power."

"If we in the Republican Party meet these issues courageously and constructively, the American people will do their part . . . with a landslide vote that will sweep a Republican President into office and give him a Republican Congress to do the job right."

Senator Lodge of Massachusetts—national campaign manager for the Eisenhower Republican group—received perhaps the most sustained applause of the evening when he rose to speak.

NEITHER Lodge nor anyone else, however, put in any plugs for any GOP presidential candidate.

The main assault on the Truman administration was launched by a series of three-minute speakers whose talks were broadcast over a radio network. Another group of Republicans in Congress blasted the Democrats in response to questions from the audience.

Maneuvering among Republicans, meanwhile, went like this:

1. Senator Taft, speaking at Charleston, W. Va., lambasted the administration's foreign policy as

Heckler Of Taft Given $25 Fine

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 5.—For heckling Senator Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) a union official drew a $25 fine in court here Monday.

Jerry B. Merrell, secretary of Local 817, CIO United-Automobile Workers, kept yelling "yeah, but what about the Taft-Hartley law?"

Judge Michael Hellmann fined Merrell for disorderly conduct and told the union official:

"I disagree with Mr. Taft, too, but that gives me no right to disturb his meetings."

2. Virginia Republican Chairman Robert H. Woods said in Richmond he doubts Senator Taft has his state's 23 GOP votes sewed up, adding, "there is strong Eisenhower sentiment growing."

Taft is due to speak Tuesday in Harrisonburg, in what is viewed as another attempt to win Virginia support.

3. In Columbus, Harold Stassen accused Taft of having a foreign policy aimed at "withdrawing from the rest of the world."

4. Nomination papers were requested at Augusta, Me., to run Sumner Pike as a Republican candidate for the Senate. Pike, former atomic energy commissioner, said he is "still on the fence."

New Control Bill Offered

Sen. Maybank Acts Ahead Of Truman

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Senator Maybank (D-SC) has announced he is introducing a bill to extend for one year the Defense Production Act. This act forms the basis of wage, price, rent, and credit controls.

Maybank said he is offering the measure without waiting for the administration version to arrive from the White House, so as to permit early public hearings on the red-hot issues involved.

The existing statute is due to expire June 30.

Maybank called for elimination of controls on items that probably will continue to sell below ceiling prices "for some time."

The White House is expected to oppose such a provision, and urge that decontrols be left to the judgment of defense authorities.

Maybank quoted testimony given by Economic Stabilizer Roger L. Putnam at a banking committee meeting last week that the controls "will be more important than ever" as a bulwark against dangerous inflation in the coming year.

"I AGREE with him," Maybank said. "It is for this reason that I am introducing this bill now, so that there will be no excuse for Congress not to act in time."

Maybank's bill would extend for one year the provisions authorizing price, wage, rent and credit controls. It also would continue for another 12 months the small defense plants corporation, created to help small business enterprises share in the defense effort, and continue without expiration date the defense housing and community facilities act. It would allow the disputed tight new curbs on imports of fats, oils, dairy products and some other items due to expire June 30.

Liquor Chieftain Loses Car Permit

LANCASTER, Feb. 5.—Ohio's liquor permit chief pleaded guilty to a charge of drunken driving Monday.

Francis K. Cole, 38, of Columbus was fined $100 by Municipal Judge William C. Pickering, and also lost his right to drive for 90 days. Cole was picked up by the State Highway Patrol near here Saturday night.

Drunk Drivers Get Stiff Jolt

Municipal Court Is Clamping Down

One intoxicated driver drew a fine of $350 and costs and lost his driving privilege for one year and another drew $100 and costs and six months in jail when they appeared before Judge R. L. Brubaker in municipal court Tuesday morning.

The man who drew the $350 and costs and was suspended from driving for one year was Emery F. Peele, 47, of Midland City. He was arrested on U. S. 62 at the edge of the city Monday afternoon. He was charged with driving 80 miles an hour.

When State Patrolman M. E. Bricksley could not overtake the speeding car, he said he radioed to Sheriff Orland Hays, who responded and halted Peele.

He was brought in and bond fixed at $500.

Represented by Attorney Osborn of Clermont County, Peele appeared in court Tuesday, was found guilty and fined accordingly.

In passing sentence Judge Brubaker called Peele's attention to the great danger to others as well as to himself, of driving at excessive speed and while drunk. He was warned not to appear again or the limit fine would be waiting for him.

THE SECOND intoxicated driver was Donald K. Bock, 21, a soldier on leave.

Bock resides near Sabina and on Feb. 1 was before Judge Brubaker on a charge of driving while drunk. At that time he was fined $50 and costs and his driving rights suspended.

This time he was charged not only with driving while intoxicated but also with driving while his license was suspended.

He pleaded guilty to driving while drunk and was fined $100 and costs and given six months in jail. The second charge was not pressed.

"Please don't do this to me: I'd rather go to Korea," Bock implored after the sentence was passed.

"You had your chance the other day and the sentence stands," Judge Brubaker replied.

Francis L. Reed, 59, city, was charged with resisting arrest, and his hearing was to take place sometime Tuesday.

Cpl. Martin Hoskins Is Back from Korea

Cpl. Martin E. Hoskins, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Hoskins, 602 North North Street, today is back in the United States after 17 months overseas in the Korean war.

He arrived in San Francisco aboard the transport Gen. William Black with 2,225 combat veterans from Korea.

His parents have had no direct word from him, but are hoping, and expecting, their son to get home here in the near future.

Cpl. Hoskins enlisted in the Army in October of 1949 and shipped out for the Far East from Seattle in August 1950. He received his basic training at Ft. Knox, Ky.

When he gets home, the United Nations campaign ribbon on his breast will have five battle stars on it, his parents said they had learned.

He was a gunner in an anti-aircraft outfit and has seen service "all over Korea," his parents said his letter disclosed.

H. was a member of Company M of the National Guard when he enlisted.

Flu Hits Schools; Attendance Down

A mild wave of influenza and colds—so mild it could not be called an epidemic—has put a slight dent in attendance at the city schools, records at the high school and reports from the five elementary schools Tuesday revealed.

Supt. Stephen Brown said the check on elementary school attendance for the day would not be completed until late afternoon. But, Prin. E. Wayne Titus said there were about 150 absent Tuesday morning in the upper six grades—the junior high and senior high school classes. This is about four times the normal rate of absences, Titus said.

Particularly hard hit was the WHS basketball squad. And the jolt came at a time when, admittedly, it will be felt severely; for the Lions are scheduled to meet the Indians from Hillsboro on the WHS floor Tuesday (tonight), starting with the Reserve game at 7:15 o'clock followed by the Varsity game an hour and a half later.

Among the members of the Reserve and Varsity squad who were out of school Tuesday morning were Claude Smith, Varsity center; Wayne VanMeter, Varsity forward; Lloyd Arnold, Varsity center; Walter Plymale, Varsity guard; Max Schlichter, Reserve center and Roger Gorman, Reserve forward.

The next meeting will be held at the Kirk Implement Co. here on February 11, starting at 8 P. M.

due to subject all Americans within their borders to a campaign of humiliation, denunciation and possibly imprisonment.

Two American citizens have been imprisoned on "spy" charges in Communist Hungary and Czechoslovakia. Robert A. Vogeler, telephone company executive, was held by the Hungarians 17 months and released only when the U. S. promised various concessions.

William Oatis, Associated Press correspondent in Prague, has been in a Czech prison since July 2 under a 10-year sentence.

Only last December, Hungary forced the U. S. to pay $120,000 for the release of four American airmen who landed by mistake behind the Red border.

Secretary of State Acheson was called before the Senate Armed Services Committee Tuesday to explain the latter incident.

Several lawmakers were urging the U. S. break diplomatic relations with Hungary as a result of the case of the four fliers.

ALL THIS persuaded the State Department to take a new look at its overall policy in this area in order to be prepared for quick severance of diplomatic relations with all satellite countries if it is deemed advisable.

The U. S. now has diplomatic missions in Russia, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary and Rumania. The American legation in Bulgaria was closed Feb. 24, 1950, after the Communist government there declared the American minister unacceptable on the grounds that he was a spy.

It is understood the State Department would favor keeping the American embassy in Moscow as a last official contact with the Communist world, regardless of any decision to close those in Soviet satellite nations.

Teachers Here Are Guests at Greenfield

Five teachers from Washington C. H. were special guests of the Greenfield Teachers Association at a meeting Monday evening in the McClain High School.

The Greenfield teachers invited teachers from surrounding communities to attend the special session to hear a talk on raising the standards of the teaching profession by Mrs. Janie Alexander, president of the classroom group of the National Education Association.

Mrs. Alexander told how the teachers, through personal training, could obtain a higher standard. She also told of some of her experiences in visiting other schools in the country.

Other speakers on the program included Carl Shanks, vice president of the Ohio Education Association and Edward Hoon, field secretary for the group.

Members of the high school music classes also presented a program.

Following the meeting, the members were guests of the Greenfield PTA who gave a tea.

Those who attended from here were Mrs. Frank Mayo, Mrs. Robert Angus, Mrs. Marcus Prosch, Dr. Ruth Teeter and Mrs. Edna Watts.

During the intermission, seven acts were presented in a program Shirley Kimmey and Lana Jamison danced the "Baby Tap" to open the program.

The program ended with a vocal solo, "Candy and Cake" by Joan Robinson.

4-H Tractor Club Discusses Valves

Members of the second year 4-H Tractor Maintenance Club discussed the problems involved in care of tractor valves, during the group's regular meeting Monday night at the Rogers Tractor Sales in Staunton.

Hugh Wilson and Raymond Smith gave a demonstration on the proper methods for servicing and cleaning tractor valves. An open discussion followed the demonstration.

Rodney Acton and David Fabb will demonstrate the servicing of the electrical system of a tractor at the next meeting of the group February 11 at the Kirk Implement Co.

Two new members attended the meeting Monday. They were Roger Bonham and Allen Wilt.

Resolutions Passed By Union FB Council

The Union Township Farm Bureau Council No. 1 took a crack at what was described as "the importance of foreign agricultural laborers to replace American boys in the military service."

The conclusion reported after the discussion that "we believe this is unsatisfactory and impractical to the American farmer."

The business session of the meeting was conducted by Lowell Kaufman and the discussion leader was O. E. Bush.

Three other resolutions were passed by the council: (1) Make relief rolls available to the public; (2) Favor a weight-distance tax on trucks (turned down at the last session of the Legislature) and (3) Legislative program to reduce taxes at local levels and cut federal spending.

Zoning of Union Township was discussed and while reports were favorable, the question will be taken up again at a later date.

The meeting was preceded by a supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Rhoad, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Penn were guests.

Reapportionment To Be Big Issue

CLEVELAND, Feb. 5.—The real issue at November's election on whether to hold a constitutional convention is "reapportionment," says Cinglan Jackson, political editor of the Youngstown Vindicator.

Every 20 years Ohioans vote on whether to hold a convention to rewrite their 100-year-old constitution. Jackson pointed out the convention could change the apportionment of assemblymen. "The two groups most interested," he continued, "will be the under represented population of 17 counties and the over represented people of the other 71."

He said 41 counties, which have just 12 per cent of the state's population, have 30 per cent of the representatives in the Ohio house.

Grain Market

CHICAGO, Feb. 5.—(U)—Grains developed a steady to firm tone on the Board of Trade Tuesday after early selling, a continuation of Monday's liquidation, was checked.

The nearby contracts of wheat, oats and soybeans made the best progress. All contracts of wheat were well above the previous close, with other contracts showing plus signs.

Tuesday's advance was aided by a rally in securities and a better tone in cotton trading.

The Nation Today

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Several million self-employed people for the first time will pay a Social Security tax when, before midnight of March 15, they file their 1951 income tax return.

When they file that return they must pay their Social Security tax, plus any income tax they owe. Their Social Security tax is based on their net earnings—total income minus business deductions—from self-employment.

THEY USE two forms in making their return:

1. On a separate form, Schedule C, starting on Line 25, they answer questions about their self-employment income to find their Social Security tax.

2. Then on Form 1040—Page 1, Line 5—under (A) they say what their 1951 income tax is and under (B) they show their Social Security tax. They add the two together and pay what's owed.

Millions of self-employed people, but not all, came under Social Security coverage Jan. 1, 1951, as a result of a change in the law by Congress late in 1950 to include more people.

All through 1951 wage-earners were paying a Social Security tax on the first $3,600 of their pay. It was regularly withheld from their wages. The self-employed people didn't have to pay any Social Security tax last year.

Now, though, the self-employed must pay in a lump sum whatever Social Security tax they owe for all 12 months of 1951. The tax on them is 2 1/4 per cent on the first $3,600 of their net income.

Note: No one has to pay Social Security tax on less than $400 of self-employed income.

So wage-earners and self-employed both pay the Social Security tax on their first $3,600. But—during 1951 some people were self-employed only part of the time. The rest of the time they earned wages from which the Social Security tax was withheld.

WHAT DO THEY do now? If, as wage-earners, they got $3,600 in pay from which Social Security tax was withheld, they're paid up for the year as wage-earners and don't owe any tax for the income earned while self-employed, no matter what their self-employment income was.

But then come split problems. Jones earned $2,000 in wages and $5,000 from self-employment. What does he do?

Since no one pays the tax on more than the first $3,600 of his income, Jones subtracts his $2,000 in wages from $3,600 in self-employment income, and finds he still owes Social Security tax on $1,600 of self-employed income. So he pays a 2 1/4 per cent tax on $1,600.

But, since there's no Social Security tax on less than $400 of self-employed income, a case like this might arise:

Smith had $3,300 in wages, from which tax was withheld, plus $300 in self-employed income, giving him a total income of $3,600. Since his self-employed income was less than $400, he pays no tax on that $300.

In his case, therefore, his Social Security tax for 1951 was limited to the tax withheld from his $3,300 in wages.

But when Congress broadened the Social Security law, it still excluded some people from its coverage. The following are not covered by the law and so do not have to pay a social security tax:

PUBLIC officials, railroad workers, ministers, priests, doctors, lawyers, osteopaths, dentists, veterinarians, chiropractors, naturopaths, optometrists, Christian Science practitioners, architects, certified public accountants, accountants registered or licensed as accountants under state or city laws, fulltime practicing public accountants, funeral directors, professional engineers.

Unless you're a real estate broker you can't include in your net earnings, for the purpose of self-employment tax, any rentals you receive from real estate. Nor can you include income derived from the business of farming.

And, unless you're a dealer in securities, you can not include interest and dividends from securities as self-employed income.

Jones Returns From Seminar

Sanitarian Here Appears on Panel

Charles P. Jones, Fayette County sanitarian, has returned from a two-week in-service seminar on "Building Better Sanitation," which was held in the central Ohio district health office in Delaware from Jan. 21 to Feb. 1.

Jones, who is in charge of the environmental health program in Fayette County, was a member of a panel which discussed the problem of determining how much the public knew about the Health Department.

There were 27 sanitarians present at the meeting from various cities in the state.

THE SEMINAR was staged by the state Health Department in cooperation with newspaper editors, Ohio State University and Ohio Wesleyan University.

The in-service seminar was the first of its kind ever held in the United States, and there were representatives of the National Sanitation Foundation and the U. S. Public Health Service present to observe the sessions.

SOME OF the conclusions reached by the group were as follows:

(1) The group felt that the sanitarians were failing to use such mediums as the newspapers and committee meetings to inform the public about their work.

(2) Those present felt that often the sanitarian was handicapped by decisions being left up to superiors who often didn't understand the problems at hand.

(3) They felt that often the sanitarian didn't "sell" himself to the public and that if he could he should carry on a more active program.

(4) Those at the meeting said that many of them were trained in a field other than that of the sanitarian.

(5) The group felt that the sanitarian should prepare newspaper articles subject to the approval of the health commissioner.

(6) Monthly or yearly reports should be submitted by the sanitarian to the health board or council.

(7) The group felt that their work should be evaluated not according to the number of calls made but according to the results from each call.

League of Women Voters Here Takes Lead in Observance of 'Know Ohio Constitution' Week

This is "Know Ohio Constitution Week" by official proclamation of the state's governor, Frank J. Lausche, and the League of Women Voters here has taken the leadership for observance in Fayette County.

The league's plans, however, are still indefinite although the broad outlines are beginning to take form, Miss Agnes Kerrigan, the secretary, disclosed Monday morning.

Miss Kerrigan said the observance during the week would be more or less routine and the real emphasis probably would come in the fall during the general election campaign.

The league's key to the observance, it was said, is to be a meeting in the auditorium of the Dayton Power & Light Co. building, but the date is indefinite. Nearly 300 organizations such as clubs, lodges and the like in the county are to be asked to send representatives to the meeting which is to be highlighted, under the league's plans, by a panel discussion of the state constitution.

IT HAD BEEN hoped to hold the meeting sooner, but a spokesman for the league said that soon after the invitations were started out to the organizations it became apparent that more time would be needed to develop the project. It was from the many suggestions that it be held just before the election that plans for postponing it until fall took form.

However, in the meantime, Miss Kerrigan said the league would place emphasis on a study of the state constitution at fraternal, social and patriotic group meetings.

As a starter, the secretary prepared a sample of how the study could be approached. It is a series of questions with the answers. She said, however, each organization probably would have its own plans.

MISS KERRIGAN's suggested study plan follows:

"The youth of Ohio is perplexed. Its mind is troubled just as the minds of many older people are troubled. Have we not enough to worry about without the Constitution of Ohio? Why bring that up? Why did Governor Frank J. Lausche, on Jan. 16 subscribe his name and cause the great seal of the State of Ohio to be attached to a proclamation naming the period of Feb. 3 through 9 as 'Know Ohio Constitution Week'?

Aren't we getting along all right with the present Constitution? Why does the governor ask for both individual study and public discussion of the question whether there should be a constitutional convention to consider the revision, alteration or amendment of the present Constitution?

"Questions are asked and answered:

"What is the Constitution?—The Constitution of Ohio is the basic group of principles or laws according to which the state is organized and governed. It is a part of the system of laws of the United States which is fundamental to all other laws. All state laws must conform to federal laws. State laws, as well as federal laws, are embodied in a document called the Constitution. Before they become laws they are suggested and prepared by a chosen group of people. Then they are submitted to popular vote.

"When and how did Ohio become one of the United States?—Ohio was admitted to the Union on Nov. 29, 1802. It was the first state carved out of the North West Territory which embraced public lands now known as Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, and a part of Minnesota. Ohio is so called from the river of that name which means 'beautiful river'.

"Ohio, as the 17th state of the Union in 1802, was not the Ohio of today. It was largely a land of forests which rapidly began to disappear.

"Cereals and other farm crops began to take the place of native plants and trees. The principal native trees of Ohio were the same as today—oak, hickory, maple, beech, poplar, ash, sycamore, walnut, chestnut, linden, elm, cherry,

More Blood Is Needed From the "Home Front"

Although the response to the blood donor campaign has been reasonably generous, so far as Fayette County is concerned, there are still hundreds of people in this locality who could give blood without any real difficulty.

On a few occasions this county has either reached or been very close to its quota, but there are many other places where the "home front" in this crucial appeal has been lagging badly. Here we know of some individuals who have given blood many times.

Many people over the nation have given blood which goes to save lives of our boys in Korea. Some that has been donated goes for emergency use in hospitals such as the Fayette County Memorial Hospital.

This has been the result of the intensive campaign waged by local groups or committees to meet the Red Cross urgent requests. Still the response has not been sufficient to meet the needs.

This fact is confirmed by a recent story from Tokyo. A private, wounded on patrol, had one leg nearly shot off, the other foot shattered and an arm broken. Brought to a front line hospital he needed a blood transfusion, but the supply had been exhausted.

Four fighting soldiers were called back from the front, to give their blood to the dying comrade. Thirteen others from the wounded man's regiment also gave blood later. Then they were sent back to the trenches, to be shot at and possibly suffer a fate similar to that of the one they had helped.

Here at home you get coffee and cookies when you donate a pint of blood. In Korea you get the privilege of going back to the front line for more action.

Blood transfusions have saved hundreds of lives in Korea, and will save more hundreds if a supply is available. Apparently the home front is slowing up in this important matter of life and death.

Here is something for every citizen, eligible to give blood, to consider seriously the next time the call from the Blood Mobile Unit is made here.

Out of Control

One Washington, D. C. news analyst of current events says:

"The truth is that the federal budget is out of the control of Congress, which is supposed to hold the purse strings on behalf of the taxpayers.

"The budget has gotten so big, and government functions have gotten so wide, that the multi-billions can not be understood by any member of Congress, or by any single committee of Congress. The scrutiny is on fragments, but the fragments add up, and there is no one who can REALLY cut down.

"No remedy is in sight until... until Congress reorganizes itself as to procedures, and has its own checkers in all the executive agencies. Executive agencies play loose with billions and give public the runaround."

Six Little Knobs on Her Tummy

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK—(P)—This is to announce the arrival of a new baby at our house.

She's precocious. She doesn't walk, but she gawks and she talks—and she says the cutest, strangest, most boring things.

The stork didn't bring her. It took two strong men to deliver this baby. They set her up on her feet, grunted, gave her a look of deep dislike and departed.

But we loved her on sight—from her shiny glass forehead to the six little knobs in her tummy.

Yes, after all these years, we have become the proud parents of a television set. She is blonde like my wife, Frances. Because of the 17-inch eye in her forehead we immediately christened her "Little Miss Cyclops."

Frances said she took Miss Cyclops on the spur of the moment. She went into a music shop to buy a phonograph record and the salesman asked her if she was interested in a television set. "Why, yes," she said, just to be polite. Whereupon the salesman threw himself on the floor, broke into tears and began to mumble hysterically—"At last! At last!"

"After that I felt I just had to buy a set," said Frances. "So we brushed the cobwebs off the nearest one, and I told him, 'wrap 'er up, son'."

She brushed off his grateful offer to throw in a free grand piano, two harmonicas and a week's visit to Brooklyn.

For the formal debut of Miss Cyclops we invited in three trusted friends. After dinner we adjourned to our new nursery.

The big moment was at hand! What would be our baby's first words? That is an anxious time for any proud parent of a television set. I know one man who lost face permanently because his set didn't say anything. It just burst into wild, maniacal laughter. It was still laughing when he sent it back to the store.

Nervously, I toyed with the knobs. A light came into my baby's eye. Then she flashed on her screen—guess what? An old movie! I felt proud of her at once. It's nice to see a child with a grasp of the past.

But no sound. I had a horrible feeling our television set was backward—vocally retarded. But no. She mumbled a bit, feeling for words, then spoke our clearly:

"I think that Dutch water is a better drink than French champagne."

Well, now, wasn't that really clever, considering her age and all? None of us there even knew what Dutch water was. (We still don't.) I went over and patted Miss Cyclops on her flat blonde head, and she immediately said simply:

"It's nice to be a woman again."

Then she warmed up and ran off three old movies in a row.

I would like to say Miss Cyclops continued her success after such a fine debut. But she hasn't.

Frances didn't mind her as long as her screen stuck to puppets, musical saw players, horse operas, and closeup views of politicians and tenors badly in need of a tonsilectomy. But lately she has been on a crime jag.

Miss Cyclops is plumb crazy about gory homicides. She switches from a fratricide to a patricide to a matricide. And just before we go to bed she comes up either with an eerie uxoricide (husband mangles wife) or a gruesome maricide (wife mangles husband).

We never know what "cide" is coming to bat next.

"That television set is mentally unhealthy," said Francis. "It's got me so I can't sleep. Last night I dreamt that that thing crawled into bed and hit me with an ax."

"That thing" is what she now calls Miss Cyclops, and she will hardly go into the room with it alone. I even suspect she locks it in while I am away at work.

My own feeling is that if our pretty baby doesn't get less creepy there soon will be only one blonde left in our house—and it sure won't be Miss Cyclops.

Diet and Health Is Danger in Young

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN
Young people with diabetes are some danger of developing cataracts of the eye.

A cataract is a milky clouding in the lens of the eye which cuts off light from the inner part of the eye, and thus brings on a form of blindness.

Cataracts due to diabetes are fairly common, occurring almost always in young people. It seems that a person who is unable to control the sugar metabolism of his body is more prone to cataracts than a normal person. About two percent of those with diabetes will develop the diabetic type of cataract, it is believed.

Mild Form of Disease

It is interesting to note that those who develop this type of cataract are frequently suffering from a moderate form of diabetes, not a severe form. The typical diabetic cataract will appear in a patient who is relatively well.

Another point is that almost all of these cataracts occur in the young. They have been reported in children as young as 11 months, and are very common among adolescents. They are not so common in adults, and are very rare in the aged.

Develop Rapidly

Diabetic cataracts are most often found in both eyes, and tend to develop very rapidly. It seldom takes more than a few weeks before the person is totally blind.

Sometimes it is possible to check these cataracts after they begin to develop. In many cases of this type, the cataracts have cleared up when the diabetes received proper treatment.

If the cloudiness becomes worse, it is necessary to have the cataract removed by an eye surgeon. This operation usually preserves the eyesight. However, it is important to control the diabetes carefully at the time of the operation.

School Chief Refuses To Enter Plea

FREMONT, Feb. 5—(P)—Fremont's school superintendent and three others stood mute Monday at their arraignment on perjury charges, and Judge H. E. Culbertson of Ashland entered innocent pleas for them.

The four are School Superintendent Urban E. Diener, formerly of Van Wert; School Board Member Carl Coleman, Coleman's brother, Paul; and Former Radio Announcer Dorsey Pardo.

They were indicted following testimony in a common pleas court suit over a $100 election expense account. The account was filed by Carl Coleman when he was running for the school board post last year. The money was spent for radio advertising.

The four contended that making pleas would violate their rights to take exception to the indictments. Their attorneys had made a motion to continue it has on grounds h expense account trial should be completed first. Judge Culbertson overruled this.

The four will be tried separately on the perjury counts. Carl Coleman's trial was scheduled tentatively for Feb. 18. No other trial dates were reported.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5—(P)—President Truman had another chance to end the speculation about his political intentions Sunday but he didn't take it. He and Mrs. Truman were in the audience at a piano concert when the manager, Patrick Hayes, asked patrons to give their preference for next season's performances.

"After all," Hayes said, "isn't this the time of year when we all try to guess what's going to happen next fall?" The President smiled but kept his own counsel.

Big Steel Says Wage Hike To Cut Tax Take

NEW YORK, Feb. 5—(P)—Benjamin F. Fairless said Monday his United States Steel Corp. could meet wage demands and hold its present prices—but this would result in a 60 per cent reduction in its federal income tax payments.

Fairless added that such a wage increase, if allowed to spread throughout American industry, could result in a net loss to the government estimated at $11 billion.

He said the ultimate "cost of wage increase would come out of taxable income."

The president of U. S. Steel said the government then "will be obliged to lift the lid on prices if for no other reason than to protect its tax revenues and to maintain its own income."

Fairless presented his arguments against another pay boost for steel workers before a Wage Stabilization Board panel seeking to prevent a strike in the steel industry threatened for Feb. 23.

Arguments for an 18 1/2 cents-an-hour wage increase and other benefits were made before the board last week by the CIO United Steelworkers of America. The union has added a demand for a guaranteed minimum annual wage amounting to about $3,000.

Trouble in Egypt Nothing New

By George Sokolsky

While it is undoubtedly true that in the current turmoil in Egypt, Soviet Russia stirs already muddied waters, Egyptian Nationalism had made itself felt for a prolonged period, anti-foreign riots having taken place as early as June 12, 1922.

Nationalism was then, as now, a strong motivating force in all eastern Mediterranean countries, ancient peoples resisting their control by the younger and, to them, less important, western European countries. Today, Internationalism is regarded by such peoples as a weapon of the Anglo-American powers to maintain the authority of the British empire.

Woodrow Wilson revived the spirit of Nationalism among the weak and backward nations, particularly in Asia, by the "Fourteen Points," supporting the concept of self-determination. In India, China and Egypt, Colonialism became the most objectionable form of western domination of eastern peoples. Sun Yat-Sen turned his back on America and his eyes toward Soviet Russia on the issue of Colonialism: Gandhi excited the imagination of the world on the same issue.

The basic problem in Egypt is the revision of the 1936 treaty with Great Britain. In July, 1951, the Egyptian foreign minister stated:

"... Perhaps the British had now realized, however, that 'the most important point in any Anglo-Egyptian talks is that Egypt will not stand on their side at any time so long as they insist on occupying our territory and on separating the Sudan from Egypt.' The 1936 treaty would avail them nothing at a time of political or military pressure instead, it would be a cause of friction between Egypt and Britain 'at the moment of their grave and most pressing crisis'."

The Egyptians demand that the Sudan must be under Egypt and greater Egyptian participation in the Suez Canal; the evacuation of British troops and the unification of the Nile Valley. On August 26, 1951, a mass meeting of the Socialist, Nationalist, and Socialist-peasant parties passed resolutions demanding that the 1936 Anglo-Egyptian treaty and the 1899 Sudan Condominium agreement be abrogated without delay. They called for a boycott of British troops, and that no food, material, or labor be allowed to reach British camps.

In October, the radical Nationalist Moslem brotherhood passed violent resolutions, perhaps the strongest of which were the first three:

(1) That a state of war with Britain should be declared and British forces in Egypt and the Sudan be considered aggressors; (2) that Anglo-Egyptian economic, commercial, and cultural relations should be severed; (3) that all Egyptians should be allowed to carry arms without license and that assaults on Britons should not be punishable.

Great Britain, the United States, France and Turkey, proposed the Allied Middle East Command, inviting Egypt to join them. Should Egypt accept the invitation, Great Britain would agree to the suspension of the 1936 treaty and to the withdrawal of such British forces not complicated to the proposed Middle East Command. The proposal is long, complicated, dealing with Egyptian, Sudanese and Suez problems. Egypt rejected this proposal on the ground that it could not be considered while British forces remained in Egypt.

The difficulty that the Egyptian government faced obviously was that they had so inflamed their own people against Great Britain that they could not stem the tide. This was most evident when Pakistan's offer of mediation was rejected.

The Egyptian prime minister, Nahas Pasha, offered the Egyptian Parliament four decrees unilaterally abrogating the Anglo-Egyptian treaty of 1936 and the 1899 Condominium Agreement.

This naturally the British rejected and the rejection was supported by the United States. The British replied:

"The Anglo-Egyptian treaty of friendship and alliance of 1936 contains no provision for unilateral denunciation at any time. If the principle were accepted that one party to such a treaty were entitled to denounce that treaty unilaterally, no reliance could be placed on any international agreement, and the whole basis and structure of international relations would cease to exist."

The year 1951 ended with no solution to any of the Egyptian problems, which now have reached a climax with the fall of the Egyptian cabinet, the assertion of unusual authority by the king, and the burning of the historic Shepherd's Hotel, during rioting.

This is a struggle between Nationalism and Internationalism, a solution for which is not immediately available. Neither side can readily give in and the United Nations lacks the prestige to be of any value. Yet, a solution must be found if the Moslem world is not to turn entirely against the west.

Nest-Egg Look As Big Now As It Did In '39?

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—(P)—That nest-egg of yours—does it look as big now as it was supposed to when you planned it? Could you offset the inroads of inflation by different investments?

Some people have—by investment or speculation in investment with a bigger dash of risk—risk taken with a hope of greater gain.

The dollar you saved before World War II has only about 53 cents in purchasing power now compared with what it had then. That means if you put your money into savings accounts, government or corporate bonds, preferred stocks, or just kept it in cash—you've lost around so far as purchasing power goes.

But some commodities, houses, farms and common stocks have advanced so much in nominal dollar value since 1939 that their real value even in terms of the present dollar with its 73-cent purchasing power is well ahead of 1939.

"SOME PEOPLE have defended themselves successfully against inflation and even accumulated small fortunes in legitimate speculation in commodities, common stocks, or real estate equities," the National February letter.

But it says these people were mostly experts in what they were doing, and willing to risk losses.

"A small capital, a reserve for family emergencies or children's education, should not go into speculative uses," the bank warns.

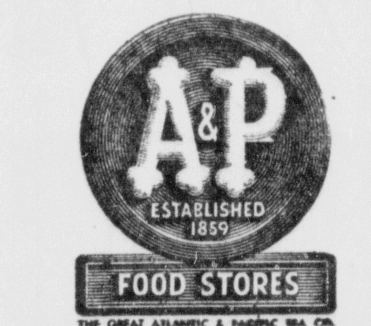

Taking a banker's factual view of what has actually happened to investments made in 1939, here is what 13-years have done to their purchasing power:

Cash has lost 47 per cent of its purchasing power. So has the principal put into savings accounts. The purchasing power of the income from such accounts, even with interest rates higher, now is off by 29 per cent.

The nominal dollar value of many bonds and preferred stocks in 1952 dollars is up, but in terms of purchasing power in 1939 dollars the real value is down anywhere from 43 to 52 per cent, the bank says. The rate of income has remained constant but the purchasing power of those interest payments is down 47 per cent.

AS FOR government savings bonds—"D" bonds in 1939, "E" bonds now—a dollar invested in them in 1939—reinvested later in "E" bonds would have returned 37 per cent in accrued nominal dollar value by now. But in purchasing power the money would have lost 27 per cent.

Taking common stock used in popular "averages," the bank figures they have gone up in nominal value (in 1952 dollars) by 100 to 200 per cent since 1939. And that puts their purchasing power value (in 1939 dollars) up by nine to 68 per cent, while income from these stocks through dividends has gained in purchasing power terms by eight to 75 per cent.

A typical one-family house has increased 150 per cent in dollar value since 1939 (where the neighborhood hasn't changed, of course) and the purchasing power value is up 34 per cent.

Farm real estate has gone up a little less in nominal value but is still ahead by 30 per cent in purchasing power values. The gross cash income per farm, however, is up 137 per cent over 1939 in terms of purchasing power.

The paper dollar has lost purchasing power over the years, but how about the "old U. S. dollar"—the $10 gold piece you once could own?

These are banned for use here by private citizens, but they are still in circulation abroad. An American $10 gold piece brings around $24 in U. S. paper money in Paris now, the bank says, and adds:

"Any foreigner who has held U. S. gold coin since 1933, when the dollar was depreciated, has lost nothing in terms of capacity to buy American goods or services."

Antioch Men Learn Job By Actual Doing

YELLOW SPRINGS, Feb. 5.—(P)—The best way to learn something is to actually do it.

That's the belief of seven Antioch College seniors who put up $5 capital apiece. The students—all business administration majors—have formed a partnership called College Enterprises. They market book jackets and a portable desk-top file box.

Before they rushed blindly into their project, the partners made a market survey. It showed that of some 15 possible products, the file box and book jackets would be subject with which Nellie Watts will conclude Friday afternoon meetings of the women.

W. W. MONTGOMERY, the Fayette County agent, is to be the chairman of the Friday morning sessions for the men.

The program has been divided into three main phases:

- (1) Current research into animal science and its implications for the present and future, by Dr. T. S. Sutton;
- (2) Meaning of current research in animal science as it applies to (a) cattle, by J. H. Warner; (b) sheep, by Ralph Grimshaw, and (c) swine, by Herbert Barnes.
- (3) Questions and discussions on the above topics.

Carl Bibbee is to be the chairman of the men's afternoon session, which is to cover three more general topics:

- (1) Adjusting to a fast changing insecticide program, by T. H. Parks;
- (2) Recommended fungicides for 1952, by B. F. Janson and
- (3) Weed control in 1952 by C. J. Willard.

purchased by more than 50 per cent or more of Antioch students.

Then they went through the red tape of setting up the partnership—securing a state vendor's license, articles of partnership, purchase of state sales tax stamps, etc.

Ten days after they received their initial order of 500 file boxes, they sold enough to pay off manufacturing costs and take advantage of a one per cent prompt payment discount.

From the way sales are going, students predict a good profit—that's in addition to return of their initial investment.

Panama Relaxing Student Decree

PANAMA, Feb. 5.—(P)—Panama's government has released 25 student rioters and agreed to extend their interrupted school term to Feb. 29, apparently settling the country's turbulent school controversy.

Eighteen persons were injured Wednesday when the students and police clashed during a demonstration demanding the term extension to make up for time lost during a student and teacher political strike since November. The government had previously refused the extension.

Lost 50 Lbs. with Rennel This Recipe Can Help You Too

"I was overweight and because of a rheumatic condition which I have been fighting for years I wanted to lose weight sensibly," writes Mrs. S. Ballard, West 4th St., Kingston, Ohio. "Rennel Concentrate certainly helped me to do this and more than that it has been a tonic to me. Since taking Rennel I have lost 50 lbs. and my rheumatism has been greatly relieved. Having used several other reducing methods which failed to help me, I certainly have very high praise for Rennel. Rennel Concentrate has done more for me than anything else, it's remarkable what it can do. Thousands have overcome the social and physical discomfort of being overweight with this effective home recipe. Obtain liquid Rennel at your drug store, mix with grapefruit juice as directed and take two tablespoons twice a day. That's all there is to it. If you're a hungry moment while reducing with Rennel, Note how quickly that disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active. Insist on and be sure to get genuine Rennel Concentrate."

Jolly Homemakers Now Await Judging

Members of the Jeff Jolly Homemakers 4-H club today are looking forward to next Saturday when their completed project books on "Baking Is Fun" are to be judged by Mrs. Norma Campbell, the county's home demonstration agent.

The seven members of the club were told at their last meeting in the home economics kitchen of Jeffersonville High School that they should invite their mothers to the meeting when their books are judged.

The meeting, which is to be held in the Jeffersonville American Legion Hall at 1:30 P. M., is to be somewhat of an occasion. The girls will serve refreshments during the social hour after the judging is completed.

The business meeting, at which plans for the judging were discussed and the project books checked by the club leaders to make certain they were filled out on each completed project, was presided over by the president, Sue McDonald. The leaders of the club are Mrs. H. E. Wall and Mrs. Ralph Davidson.

Answering the roll call, in addition to the president, were Mary Ann Creamer, Martha Jane Wall, Linda McClaskie, Evelyn Timmons, Patty Sears and Sara Sue Davidson.

Mrs. Ancil Creamer, chairman for the Junior Busy Bee Garden Club, instructed the girls to send for two seed catalogs from a list of selected companies. She also told the girls that flower seeds had been ordered for them by the sponsoring Busy Bee Garden Club, an adult organization.

It was explained that the Junior Busy Bee Garden Club is, in effect, a 4-H club within the Jeff Jolly Homemakers Club—that the same girls participate in the activities of both.

Kids Sad; They Missed Dentist

CLEVELAND, Feb. 5.—(P)—Two thousand kids missed chances to see dentists Sunday—and were sorry about it.

So was the Cleveland Dental Society, which for 12 years has given parties to entertain the youngsters, teach them about dental health, and—incidentally—get on the good side of them.

To assure a good turnout this time, the society offered prizes. Some 3,700 packed into Public Music Hall and the society sadly estimated another 2,000 were turned away.

One ride and You'll say:

"That's the Smartest Million Dollars BUICK Ever Spent"

WHEN we tell you that every 1952 Buick rides like a million dollars, we're not just slinging slang—we're talking real money—right-on-the-barrelhead cash.

A million dollars and more were poured into research and testing—design and tools—engineering, production and components—to team up the combination of ride features you'll find on a Buick—and on no other car in the world.

A million dollars and more was the price paid to work out control of end-sway and side-roll on curves—to double-check vertical "throw" with shock absorbers and big soft-acting coil springs for all four wheels—to V-brace the torque-tube keel and X-brace the frame—to cushion body and engine—and to silk out the whole operation with Dynaflo Drive.*

You may not care how the job was done, or what it cost. But we'll lay you this: You're going to say "thanks a million" to Buick engineers once you get this spirited smoothie under your hands and haunches.

Old familiar roads take on a new smoothness. Gone are the weave and wander, the jitter and jounce that you've felt in lesser cars. You ride with road-hugging assurance and level ease.

All of which only begins to tell you what really great cars these 1952 Buicks turned out to be.

Never before have style and stamina—comfort and character—power, performance and price been brought together with such satisfying skill.

The obvious thing for you to do is come in and look them over. How about taking half an hour off to do that—today?

Western Ohio Controls Buckeye Cage Talent

COLUMBUS, Feb. 5.—Ohio's sports writers have a hunch, and a decided one, that the state's high school basketball talent is packed on the sunset side of the Buckeye domain.

Of the 10 top teams in the Class A section of the weekly Associated Press poll, only unbeaten Steubenville was able to crack the practically unbroken front of squads from the central, south-western and northwestern districts.

At the peak—where they've been all season—are the Middies of Middletown who picked up 16 first place votes in the poll, while third place Steubenville got four.

In second place, with no first place choices but with plenty of other support, is Middletown's Butler County rival, Hamilton. Defending Champion Columbus East, second a week ago, skidded to fourth despite its 13-0 record.

SEVEN OF the teams in the top 10 have won 16 of the 29 state titles since the Ohio High School Athletic Association launched the tourney in 1923. The championships have gone to Dayton Stivers, four; Middletown and Newark, three each; Springfield and Hamilton, two each, and Findlay and Columbus East, one each.

Mansfield, Findlay, Ashland and Springfield suffered defeats last week but stayed in the top 10. Mansfield whipped Ashland and then lost to Zanesville; Hamilton trounced Springfield although five Big Blue stars went out on fouls; and Findlay was an upset victim of Marion 39-34, the victory avenging an earlier 78-28 setback.

Springfield clung to 10th rating despite a 6-6 record, one of the poorest ever to find its way into the top 10.

Miller City's midgets, the 1950 Class B kings, moved out front in the minor loop despite being handed their first loss in 18 starts by Glandorf, 48-40. Randolph, last week's leader, saw its 15-game winning streak ended 47-44 by Centerville which had won only two contests.

Unbeaten teams in Class B which failed to make the top 10 include Northwestern 20, Dresher 19, Woodfield 16, Taylor 16, Huron 13, Stockdale and Killbuck 12.

Here's how Ohio sports editors rate the state's high school basketball teams, showing first place votes, total points in a 10-9-8-etc., basis, and the won-loss records of the leaders:

Kentucky Paces College Quintets

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—Kentucky, riding the crest of a 12-game winning streak, enjoys top billing in the Associated Press basketball poll for the second straight week, but Kansas State and Illinois are hard on the Wildcats' heels.

Kentucky, boasting a 182 record, accumulated 811 points including 41 first-place votes. Kansas State Wildcats came home second with 751 points including 23 first-place ballots. Illinois retains third place, drawing eight nominations for first place and 705 points. Kansas State has compiled a 13-3 record and Illinois has a 13-1 slate.

Gavilan Wins Another Close Ring Decision

MIAMI, Feb. 5.—Cuban Kid Gavilan still owns the welter title after a tight squeak with string bean Bobby Dykes of San Antonio.

It was another "Gavilan special" Monday night at Miami Stadium where many of the 11,526 who paid $76,814 booed a divided decision for the sleek Havana hawk.

Only four points separated the two fighters on the total of three official cards.

Referee Eddie Coachman voted 143-140 for Dykes, the 22-year-old underdog who has been adopted by Miami as a local favorite.

Both judges found Gavilan the winner but Mark Erwin of Miami had it a near photo finish with the Cuban a nose in front, 142-141.

Ladislav Nodarse, imported from Havana to judge the championship bout, put the Keed over the top with his 145-139 ballot.

IT WAS SO close—despite an eight-count knockdown scored by Gavilan with a smashing right to the jaw in the second round—that a good flurry could have swung the title to handsome Bobby.

Jimmy Parks, Dykes' manager, shouldered the blame for assuring his boy he had only to survive the 15th and final round to win.

"I had no idea Bobby wasn't a certain winner if he got through the 15th," said Parks.

As it turned out, a slow start and that knockdown cost Dykes his big chance.

Mangrum Wins Night Golf Test

INGLEWOOD, Calif., Feb. 5.—Lloyd Mangrum is $1,000 richer by virtue of his victory in the second annual "Stars Under the Stars" night golf tournament.

The sponsor of the affair Monday night at the Inglewood Country Club had promised to pay the winner $1,000 for each stroke he bettered par 72. Mangrum shot 71.

Walcott's Dodge Hits Opposition

MIAMI, Feb. 5.—Heavy-weight Champion Joe Walcott is meeting solid opposition in his effort to avoid a return match with Ezzard Charles and take on Rocky Marciano.

Jersey Joe's manager, Felix Boechicchio, offered Monday to put the champ in against Marciano in May or June. Jim Norris, president of the International Boxing Club, said he would be interested if Charles was willing to let Walcott out of his contract to give Ezzard a first crack at the title. But Charles wasn't willing.

Brother vs Brother

PROVIDENCE.—It's brother against brother when the Hershey Bears and Providence Reds of the American Hockey League meet. In fact, there are two brother combinations playing against each other. Jerry Toppazzini and Pentti Lund are members of the Hershey team. Their brothers, Zelio Toppazzini and Joe Lund, wear Providence uniforms.

Bob Lemon, who won 17 games for the Indians last season, allowed the most hits, 244, and the most runs, 119, in the American League.

Joe McCarthy Challenges President

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Sen. Joe McCarthy (R-Wis.) has challenged President Truman to point out where he had misquoted "a single word" from loyalty reports on Presidential Aide Philo Nash.

This was the latest development in the case touched off by McCarthy in a recent Senate speech in which he said Nash had close associations with Communists in the 1940s. Nash denied it.

Mr. Truman called McCarthy a character assassin and said the attack on Nash by the pathological McCarthy was like all others he used against government employees he didn't like.

McCarthy called this mere name-calling, asked answers to four questions. These, he boiled down, were: Have you read the BI loyalty files on Nash? Where did he (McCarthy) misquote a single word? Does the President claim the FBI reports are untrue? If not, then why is he keeping Nash in a $17,500-a-year job?

McCarthy said the FBI reports had been sent Donald Dawson in the White House Dec. 8, 1950, and other copies were sent to Mr. Truman's office later.

"If they have lost these reports, Mr. Truman, you may have mine," he offered.

Regulation W Repeal Sought By Foundation

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—The National Foundation for Consumer Credit has announced its intention to make a final fight for repeal of "Regulation W" which controls down payments and payoff times for such things as household goods.

John M. Otter, vice president of the foundation, and president of the philosophy, said President Truman's call for continuation of the curbs shows that his economic advisers have given him "a vastly erroneous picture of the present economic situation on consumer credit."

It shows also, Otter went on, that the President has had "wrong advice as to the American's attitude about his right to choose what he considers necessary or unnecessary."

Truman called in his economic message to Congress for continuation of the controls, due to expire June 30.

Otter said that was a request for power to "stop people from buying wood furniture, wool and rayon rugs and carpets and necessary bedding, all articles produced without scarce materials mentioned in the (economic) report."

Flip Tribesmen Kill 16 Japanese

MANILA, Feb. 5.—Police report that fierce Mangyan tribesmen wielding spears and arrows killed 16 Japanese stragglers of World War II on a small islet southwest of Manila.

The Mangyans hid in thick underbrush of the jungle-covered islet and ambushed the Japanese when they returned from foraging for food.

McDonald Vote Is Due Tuesday

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—President Truman's hotly disputed nomination of Harry A. McDonald to head the Reconstruction Finance Corp., seems headed toward a quick showdown.

Senator Maybank (D-SC) called his Senate Banking Committee to consider the nomination Tuesday, urging it to "vote McDonald up or down, and get it over." McDonald is a Republican.

Czech Employee Seeking Asylum

LONDON, Feb. 5.—A Czechoslovak diplomatic employee who fled his country's embassy here in British custody seeking political asylum.

A home office spokesman identified the man as M. Rosa, a courier at the embassy. The British Press Association said the escape was the second from the embassy in three weeks.

Preliminary Plans Please Hospital Board

Hint That More Than 20 New Beds May Be Available

A number of discussions were reached at a meeting of the Fayette County Memorial Hospital Board Monday night regarding plans for the new addition to the medical and surgical wing of the institution.

Board members and C. Curtis Inscho, the architect, who spent nearly three hours in discussion of preliminary drawings which Inscho presented, expressed themselves as highly pleased with results of the meeting.

It was indicated that unless there is a new jump in construction and equipment prices, it is probable that final plans will allow for more than the 20 additional beds for patients, which was the minimum goal set in the new bond issue of $125,000 voted here last November.

If present ideas can be carried out, it was said, several more beds may be made available without sacrificing any facilities. New plans for rearrangement of some of the bedrooms, heretofore never attempted in hospital construction, will provide for more convenient service to patients in the new wing.

Due consideration is being given the need for more private rooms in the hospital and this is being made a definite part of the present planning.

Another meeting is to be held in three weeks when final preliminary plans will be presented by Inscho for approval of the hospital board. The hospital's medical and surgical staff will be asked to attend to offer suggestions or approve these drawings. When this approval is given the architect will begin the actual working drawings. After these are completed and given approval the board will be ready to advertise for bids.

The $125,000 in bonds, voted by the people for the new construction and equipment of the hospital, are now ready for delivery to the First National Bank here, the successful bidder. After that, finances will at once be available to the county for proceeding with the improvement.

Rev. Don McMillin Talks at WHS Chapel

Rev. Don McMillin, pastor of the First Christian Church, was the speaker at a chapel program held Tuesday morning in the Washington C. H. High School auditorium. The program was sponsored by the Future Teachers of America chapter at the high school.

Sandy Griffith read the Scripture and Shirley Riegel was the chairman of the program. Nancy Kimmey led the group in the "Lord's Prayer", and the choir presented "My God and I."

Little Phone Company

(Continued from Page One) has given "full, adequate and satisfactory" local exchange service within the boundaries of its territory. He added:

"Actions of the Lima company are a premeditated, deliberate and illegal scheme to drive your complainant out of business."

The Lima company has invaded Elida rights, he said, by attaching brackets and cross arms to Elida poles, setting poles along Elida's right of way, and stretching wires both over and under Elida wires. In some cases, he said, Lima wires touched Elida wires.

Commissioner Ralph Winter asked Jenkins if the Elida company ever had taken legal action against the Lima company. Jenkins said it had not. Moulton suggested the complaint perhaps should be made in court.

The commission Tuesday gave ooth sides until Feb. 25 to come up with suggested findings in fact and law before ruling on a second motion to dismiss the complaint.

One question involved is whether the Lima firm served the territory before 1911. The next year, the state required a company wanting to go into another firm's territory to get a certificate of necessity.

Attorney Hamaker moved to dismiss the complaint on these contentions:

That the Elida company does not have exclusive rights of way, that the Elida company should have gone to court years ago to keep the Lima company out, and that the matter is not one for the commission to decide.

Coffey Named YBM President

Election Held at Pancake Supper

Jack Coffey, 29, purchasing agent for the Armo Drainage and Metal Products, Inc., here, was elected as president of the Young Business Men's group at a meeting held in the Fayette Grange Hall on West Elm Street.

Robert Green was named as vice president and will serve as president of the group during the second six months of the year.

Donald Murdock was named the treasurer and Robert Wise the secretary.

COFFEY, A GRADUATE in engineering at Cincinnati University in 1949, was a bomber pilot in Europe during World War II, serving in the Air Force for 32 months.

Formerly from Cincinnati, he was employed in Middletown before moving to Washington C. H. He is married and has three children.

Members of the Young Business Men's group voted to donate $100 to the high school athletic department so track and field sports can be revived here. Curt Koons, reserve basketball and assistant football coach, told the YBM that he needed a total of about $450 to outfit a track team.

He indicated that a few other groups in the city had voted to contribute funds to the track team, but that he still needed about $150, even after the YBM made its contribution.

COONS ESTIMATED that it would cost about $15 a man to outfit the youths, and said he would need uniforms and equipment for between 25 and 30 boys.

Koons told the group that track was a good builder of men. He said it was good for getting youths in shape for football and also good for character building.

He indicated that some 50 youths had signed up for track, and were eager to get a start as soon as the basketball season came to an end.

JOE PETERS, president of the Washington C. H. Chamber of Commerce, was present and reported on the status of the Rocky Fork lake and park project which is virtually stalled now because of lack of funds. Peters said that efforts will be made to acquire additional land as soon as funds can be made available. The additional land is needed to provide parking areas and access points to the lake.

Announcement was made that the next YBM meeting will be held at the First Presbyterian Church basement, and it will feature the installation of officers for the year.

Ralph Penn, county chairman of the Sesquicentennial celebration, will be the main speaker.

D. E. Wood presided over the business meeting Monday night and reported that unofficial figures show that the YBM netted more than $450 from the Dr. Franz Polgar hypnotic show it sponsored.

A pancake and sausage supper was the feature of the evening for more than 40 YBM members and guests.

Braddock Drivers Return to Trucks

Drivers for the Braddock Trucking Inc. here have returned to their jobs after a four-day strike called by the teamsters union at midnight Jan. 31, when the carriers refused to go along with the union's wage demands.

Twenty-five Braddock drivers in cities in this part of Ohio, including 10 in Washington C. H., were affected.

Ralph W. Merritt, secretary of the Braddock Trucking Corp., said his firm signed a blank sheet of paper at the Southern Hotel in Columbus that it would go along with the union agreement. He said he didn't even know what some of the terms of the agreement were.

The carriers gave in to the union demands when Commercial, a competitive carrier, signed up.

There reportedly are still a few hold-outs in the Columbus area.

Student Drivers To Get New Car

Chevrolet Loaned For WHS Course

Washington C. H. High School will receive a brand new five passenger Chevrolet from the Brandenburg Motor Sales Inc. some time in the near future.

The car, especially rigged with a set of dual controls, donated by the Fayette County Auto Club, will be used in the driver training course at the high school.

For an entire year the high school may use the car in its driver training course without charge. All the high school has to do is pay for insurance on the car, maintenance, gasoline, lubrication and storage.

This year the General Motors Corporation is providing the car for use in the schools. Last year it was the Ford Motor Car Company's turn.

Supt. Stephen Brown said that the high school has had its driver training course in operation for about four years, and during this time has taught 212 students how to drive.

ANY STUDENT who is 16 years of age or older is eligible to take the driver training course.

Some 400 schools in the state of Ohio use cars loaned by the General Motors Corporation, and each day some 12,000 students drive the specially equipped cars.

Agreements are entered into by the high school, Brandenburg's auto agency and the American Automobile Association in Washington D. C. for the use of the car this and in other years when it is General Motors turn to provide the conveyance gray Chevrolet car to the high school here.

The American Automobile Association, through its office in Washington C. H., provides a set of dual driving controls similar somewhat to those used by pilots and co-pilots in airplanes. The AAA also furnishes the decals for painting on lettering on the cars to advise motorists that they are being used in training students.

The driver training instructor—Arthur Engle—has completed a driver training course and is fully qualified to teach the course.

Taft," "Taft For a Clean Sweep," Rep. Bender (R-Ohio), who appears to be the musical director of the Taft organization, busily led the singing. This included, "I'm Looking Over A Four-Leaf Clover," used four years ago by the Taft supporters and still seemingly the official song.

Then Eisenhower adherents moved in. They came out with "Eisenhower For President" and "We Like Ike" signs. Immediately there was a brisk set-to in front of the stage.

The Taft people got the Eisenhower people into a corner and used the Taft placards in an effort to bat down the Eisenhower placards.

All in all, a fine time seemed to be had by all.

Social Security Checks Early

Mailing Routine Not Always Smooth

Workers and their families in Washington C. H., Fayette County who are entitled to social security are receiving their checks a little early this month—some have them now.

This was disclosed today by C. C. Darby, the manager of the Social Security field office in Columbus, which has jurisdiction of this city and county.

Just how many here received social security payments and how much the monthly total is could not be determined immediately. The representative comes here the second and fourth Wednesday of each month only and the records are all kept in the Columbus office. He makes his headquarters for the day at the Ohio Employment Center on Market Street, but the staff there has nothing to do with the social security program.

Some months, due to very favorable conditions affecting the processing of the thousands of claims handled by the Social Security area office in Chicago, and the thousands of checks that are issued by the Treasury Department, checks may arrive as early as the third of the month. More frequently, however, beneficiaries do not receive them until some time during the six or seven day period following that, Darby continued. Therefore, he urged these folks to be patient.

On or about the fourth of each month, the office here receives telephone calls when, due to circumstances beyond the control of the Columbus field office, the Chicago area office and the Treasury Department, beneficiaries have not received their checks. These telephone calls continue day after day, sometimes up to as late as the tenth of the month, until the checks are in the hands of the recipients, he went on.

Darby concluded with the assurance that "if you received a check in the preceding month and no event has occurred—such as employment, death, marriage, divorce, adoption, etc.—to cause suspension or termination of your benefits, and your check is not received by the fifteenth of the month, appropriate action will be taken to determine the reason for delay."
